About Us

Ask Datatech (Data Entry India) is an ISO 9001:2008 certified company, offering a comprehensive back office data entry and data management service in India since 2002. We leverage the most cutting edge technologies to convert large volumes of image and paper based forms to electronic data, usable in both database and document management systems. While Data entry India is located in Ahmadabad, Gujarat, India, we have numerous other branches in the United States of America (USA), Australia, and the United Kingdom (UK). We carry all-time membership with GESIA (Gujarat Electronics & Software Industries Association), D&B (Dun & Bradstreet), IEC, and other associations and organizations.

A major challenge faced by both startups and fortune 500 companies is the spiraling data volume. Delays in processing such copious amounts of data diminish customer experience and ultimately lead to higher customer attrition, having serious repercussions on growth and revenues. This has escalated the costs of data entry significantly. In fact, the cost of document handling comes to about 6% to 15% of all the revenues of a company.

We, at Data Entry India, recognize the fundamental importance of data entry works in every aspect of your business. This is where we help your business measure right up to the established international standards of excellence and competency. Our skilled data entry techniques and expert strive to streamline your business and help you move forward seamlessly. This not only saves you ample time and money, it renders your business an extended competitive edge in the cutthroat industry.

Our cost effective and flexible solutions are diligently designed to facilitate our clients to the maximum and add value to their business propositions. The diverse portfolio of our data conversion, data research, services, and solutions uniquely distinguish us from global competitors.
