SPEYSIDE

Clerk of the Works 16 Year Old 11.00

One of our own resident Scotch obsessives, Phil Duffy, was so taken with a particular cask he tried at the Craggenmore distillery that he insisted they bottle it up just for us. Distilled on the edge of the river Spey, it's a 16 year old single cask single malt. Rich and full with biscuit and sweet spice and a lingering finish. Take one of our 223 limited release bottles home for £80.

TEQUILA & MEZCAL

50ML

Del Maguey Pechuga Mezcal

20.00

Santa Catarina Minas, Mexico

In a tiny Zapotec-speaking village, the local Agave is distilled using a centuries-old technique. On the third distillation, they throw in wild mountain apples and plums, plantains, pineapples and a few almonds. They then suspend a raw chicken in the atmosphere of the still. The vapour passes over the chicken, dehydrating and darkening it as it goes, until it condenses into this crystal clear Mezcal. At the end, the chicken's shrivelled remains are immediately transferred to the family shrine. Due to the use of wild local fruits with a very short season, production is extremely limited. This is a rare chance to try one of the most unusual, interesting and complex spirits around with smoke, fudge, spice, fruit, salt and a definite savouriness (chicken?).

COGNAC

Hennessy Paradis Imperial

150.00

Cognac

A strange story of luxury and poverty. We were recently given an award by the One Foundation for rebranding their all-profits-go-to-charity bottled water (which you may have drunk today). At the charity auction afterwards we bought this bottle of extremely rare Cognac made to a blend originally devised by James Hennessy for Tsar Alexander I in 1818. To help out the charity further we'll be passing on 100% of the sales from this bottle. So by picking this one you'll be helping to fund much needed water projects in the developing world.

APPLE BRANDY, GRAPPA & EAU DE VIE 50ML

Shipwreck 7.50

Somerset, England

When the MSC Napoli sank off the Devon coast in 2007, seaside looters left behind high quality Allier oak casks bound for South Africa. Julian Temperley managed to get his hands on them (by legal means) and now uses them to age small batches of his Somerset Cider Brandy.
