

Pop's Story

Pops has lived in the East End all his life. Growing up just after the war, Pops witnessed Spitalfields' transition from a traditional society of markets, trading and textiles into a vibrant post-war economy where television, juke boxes, teddy boys and new fashions brought new life to the area.

Working all his life in the fish and chip business, Pops believed that he could make the best fish and chip shop in London's East End. He wanted the best fish from Billingsgate, the fluffiest, crispest chips and classic favourites like jellied eels. Not only this, but feeling nostalgic himself, and believing others would feel the same, Pops has recreated the era, of 1940s and 1950s London with his amazing collection of memorabilia. It has taken years for Pops to find the juke box, the authentic Beefeater uniform, his model aeroplanes, gas masks and other reminders of the past. It is a great way to remember the many people who made the East End their home and those who, in one way or another, have touched his life.
