Glossary

Non Vintage

Non vintage (NV) is a blended Champagne created from grapes harvested in a single year blended with the still reserved wine from previous years. In this way, the Champagne house can achieve a constant house style.

Vintage

Champagne derived from a single year's crop. Producers will reserve the finest fruit for this style of Champagne. Not every year is declared as a vintage year, as vintage Champagne is only made if conditions are good enough.

Multi - Vintage

In order to maintain a style that combines both complexity and freshness, the Multi-Vintage style combines the outstanding characters of several vintages.

Prestige cuvée

A cuvée de prestige is Champagne that is considered to be the top of a producers range. Prestige cuvées represent the pinnacle of a Champagne house's achievements.

Blanc de Blancs

"White of whites" The term used to describe Champagnes made exclusively from Chardonnay grapes. Blanc de Blanc Champagnes are usually light and delicate.

Blanc de Noirs

The term "white of blacks" is used to describe Champagnes made exclusively from black grapes. Pinot Noir, Pinot Meunier or a blend of the two are the only red grapes permitted in Champagne.

Rosé

Rosé Champagne can be produced by either maceration of black grapes during pressing, so that the colour leeches out from the skins or by adding a small amount of red wine to give the wine a rosé tint.

Brut natural

A very dry style of Champagne in which the sugar content is less than 3 grams per litre. This is a very rare style of Champagne that is not widely available.

Brut

The majority of Champagne falls into this category. Brut is a term to describe dry Champagne. Contains less than 12 grams of sugar per litre.

Extra Dry

A slightly confusing French term to signify that the Champagne is slightly sweeter in style, more middle-of-the-road style, not as Dry as brut.

Sec

A term to signify that the Champagne is medium sweet.

Demi-Sec

A term to signify that the Champagne is a sweeter style with 30 -50 grams of residual sugar.

Cramant

Cramant is a commune located in the Côtes des Blancs sub region of Champagne and the wines are classified as 100% Grand cru.

LSA

International

Founded 40 years ago and incorporated in 1972, over the succeeding years LSA International has developed into a leading brand. Based in the British Isles, but with a reach as far as Tokyo, Moscow and New York, LSA now defines what is desirable in style today.
