Konjac Sponge

100% Natural Beauty Tool For Soft Delicate Skin

Use & Care of your Sponge

Before use, wash the sponge thoroughly. We recommend plunging it in water and squeezing several times.

If the sponge has dried out, always allow it to fully absorb water before putting against your skin.

Gently massage the face and body in circular motion all over, to exfoliate dead skin cells, and deeply cleanse. The massaging will stimulate tired skin & encourage skin renewal. Soap or cleansing solution can be added to the sponge if desired, but is not necessary.

Your sponge should last between 1 and 3 months, depending on how well you treat it, but once it starts to look tired, or starts to break down. Please replace it. The better care you take of your sponge, the longer it will last.

For extended longevity of your sponge, always squeeze out excess moisture after use and allow it to hang in an airy place to dry. Never store it inside the shower cubicle. A damp environment will shorten its life and allow this natural product to start to decompose!

Always:

Rinse sponge before and after use & allow to air dry (that's what the little hanging string is for on the Puff sponges!)

Do not wring, as this may damaged the sponge.

Sponge hardens when dry, so always re-hydrate in warm water before use again.

Discard if damaged. Can be composted after you have finished with the sponge.

Feel free to pop in the bottom of a plant pot after use or dig into the garden! The sponge will help water your plants by holding the moisture for it!

We know that there will be plenty of questions that people will want to ask. Here are just a few of our commonly asked ones. However, if we have not answered your question here, please email us at martin@amazingthaibeauty.com , we will be only too glad to help!

How big is the sponge? The face sponge sits beautifully on the palm of your hand and is a doddle for washing face and body. The face sponge is circular and about 6 cm diameter and 3cm deep. The size changes as the sponge dries up, as it shrinks. The Bath sponge is approx 9cm x 6cm x 2cm.

How long will the sponge last? We get asked this all the time! The average is about 3 months, but that depends on use and care. Hang to dry, rinse every time its used and don't wring it, for maximum life.

Can I sterilize the sponge? Yes, feel free to boil the sponge for a few minutes in a pan of boiling water if you want. Perfect for beauty therapists who want to reuse the sponge on their clients.

Is it suitable for anyone? Yes! It's excellent for all skin types and for children. Our Green Tea and Charcoal range means you can tackle more specific skin problems or types. Perfect for problem skin, dry, skin, oily skin and spot prone skin.

Shaving Rash? Shaving strips away the top layer of skin. Soothe and cleanse with the sponge, to prevent further damage with additional cleansing methods.

Children's hair washes, can this help? The sponge is perfect for washing the children's hair! As no big splashy cups of water to pour, and you can gently squeeze the sponge over the child's hair to wet and rinse.

Is a Konjac Sponge suitable for the elderly with thin skin? Most definitely! Elderly people frequently suffer from thin skin which breaks and tears easily. The sponge is perfect as it is so gentle and will not dry out or damage the skin.

Acne, is the sponge beneficial? Yes, again, it will certainly help. By gently but deeply cleansing, the sponge will remove the impurities that are causing the spots, and help remove infection. We would recommend our Charcoal Bamboo sponge for this problem.

Eczema sufferers, is the sponge safe for them? Yes, the sponge is fantastic for problem sensitive skin. There are no chemicals and no impurities, so no irritants. We would very highly recommend the use of the sponge for all skin conditions such as eczema.

Is it suitable for a newborn? Yes, very definitely. Nothing to irritate, and better still, no need for any other cleansing solution, shampoo or body wash for baby unless you really want! In fact even if you do decide you want to use a bath wash, you can use far less, so no need to dry or irritate babies' skin with a product that will strip delicate skin of essential moisture.

In-Grown Hairs? Will a Konjac Sponge help? Yes, wash daily with circular motions with the sponge, skin will feel softer and dead skin cells will be removed, giving the hairs under the skin a chance to come through rather than getting stuck underneath tougher skin and cause ingrown hair problems.

How frequently should you use the sponge? Make the sponge your part of your daily regime. Simply use the sponge morning and evening, just whenever you would wash or cleanse your face.

Switching your skincare regime. Simply switch over from cleansers, cotton pads, flannels, or whatever else you use! You can switch just once a day and keep your old cleanser on for the second cleanse of the day, or use the sponge with a facial wash if you want too, but you can simply use water alone, for great results! When we discovered this product, we stopped all old skin cleansing methods, and now use just water and the sponge, nothing else, just the usual moisturizer afterwards. We have all noticed a vast improvement in the skin! No more tight or dry skin, less spots, skin feels quite simply flawless and smooth.
