

At fish! we endeavour to ensure wherever possible that the fish on your plate is responsibly sourced.

With the food chain contributing to more than 25% of UK's total emissions of green house gas CO2 our aim is to use local suppliers and where possible suppliers from within Borough Market itself.

We will not allow this to affect the quality of our produce and we are working hard on sourcing the best local suppliers.

fish!kitchen

Following the success of fish!kitchen, which opened up in Kingston at the start of 2006, we have since launched fish! kitchen in Borough Market.

At fish! kitchen in Kingston, customers can order battered fish or fish from the grill, both can be enjoyed in the restaurant, or to go in one of our smart take-away boxes. fish!kitchen in Borough market on the other hand is a pure traditional take away, which offers a stripped down menu, which focuses simply on doing one dish very well... battered fish. All our fish produce is supplied by our own in house fishmongers, Jarvis of Kingston.

Jarvis The Fishmonger in Kingston was recently relaunched after a major refurbishment. Open since the 1940's, Jarvis is renowned for its exhaustive range of the freshest fish and shellfish around, including our own home-smoked salmon and kippers. We've also branched out into offering cook-ware, deli food and game when in season.

Our dedicated staff have built up over 40 years of experience, and can advise on the best ways of preparing your fish, from tuna tataki to poached salmon.
