Muktinath Helicopter Pilgrimage Tour

Trip Duration: 06 days

Max. Altitude: 3710m

Tour Grade: ***

Trip Type: Deluxe

Trip Season: Jan – Dec

Group Size: 1- 16 PAX

etripnepal offers you, Muktinath Helicopter Pilgrimage Tour. Muktinath is most important pilgrimage place for both Hindu and Buddhist. The holy shrine at Muktinath is in a grove of trees and includes a Buddhist Gompa and the pagoda style temple of Vishnu Temple, Containing an Image of Vishnu. The Hindus call it Mukti chhetra (Place of salvation) is one of the four religious sites. Many Shaligrams (Ammonite) found here are considered by Hindu as incarnation of lord Vishnu and worship them. According to Hindu Myth lord Vishnu turned into Shaligram because of Brinda's Curse. Similarly Buddhist calls this valley the Chumig Gyatsa (place of 108 waterspouts). It is believed that Guru Rimpoche (Padmasambha) the scholar founder of Tibetan Buddhism once meditated and gained lifetime achievement of spiritual knowledge here while on his way to Tibet on 12th century. The main ethnic group of the valley is Bhotias. This place is opened throughout the year but especially in Rishitarpani, Ram Nawami, and Bijay Dashami thousands of pilgrims gather here to celebrate the festival.

This Muktinath temple is situated on the upper part of Buri Gandaki on the north side of the main Himalayan range and south of Lo Manthang or Mustang. Elevation of Muktinath is 3,8000m (12,500 ft) on the western slopes of the Damodar Himal, northern extension of the Annapurna Himalayan massif. Muktinath is in the high Himalayan arid zone bordering China's Tibetan Autonomous Region. This northern region of Nepal is often called Bhot (Tibet), and its inhabitants called "Bhotia". Muktinath shrine is near the headwaters of the Jhong River, a tributary of the Kali Gandaki in the north-eastern corner of Thak Khola, a dry Himalayan valley in Mustang District of Nepal.

Lumbini Buddhist Tour

Trip Duration: 07 days

Max. Altitude: 1350 m

Tour Grade: **

Accommodation: Hotel

Trip Season: Jan - Dec

Group Size: 2 / 35 Person

Lumbini is the birth place of Lord Buddha, was born on 623 BC in Lumbini, Nepal. It is southwest from Kathmandu. There are many flights to get Lumbini from Kathmandu Airport. You can also travel by land, it takes 6 to 7 hours and 300kms form the Kathmandu. The main attraction at the Lumbini remains the Sacred Garden that is spread over 8 sq. km, the Mayadevi Temple, Ashoka Pillar, sacred pond, China Temple etc. The sacred Garden possesses all the treasures of the historic area. The Mayadevi temple is the main attraction for pilgrims and archaeologists alike. Here we find a bas relief of Mayadevi, the Buddha's mother giving birth to him. Standing west to the Mayadevi shrine is the oldest monument of Nepal; the Ashoka's pillar. Emperor Ashoka built the pillar in 249 BC to commemorate his pilgrimage to the sacred site. To the south of the pillar, we fine the sacred pond, Puskarni, where Queen Mayadevi had taken a bath just before giving birth to the Buddha. Today the holy site is being developed as the supreme Buddhist pilgrimage and a symbol of world peace. The shrines and monasteries built by different countries and in different times reflect the architectural traditions of the respective countries, and thus giving Lumbini an international feel with a message of universal friendship and brotherhood.

About 30km east of Lumbini, the village called Tilaurakot, which is believed to have been the location of the Kapilvastu Royal Palace where the Lord Buddha grew up as the Shakya dynasty prince, until he renounced it at the age of 29 in search of enlightenment. A tour to this destination will bring emancipation in one's life, which is so pure, peace and prosperous to those who seek salvation from the filthy activities practiced in the world. There are other places of interest too nearby as Kapilbastu. After Lumbini Tour, we will also visit Chitwan National Park and it takes 4 hours drive. Chitwan National park, This National Park is richest and most well known wild life safari tour in Asia, is situated 165 km south-west of Kathmandu. The park is one of the UNESCO Natural World Heritage Sites which covers an area of 932 sq. km.

Tibet Cultural Tour

This tour offers you some of the most amazing landscape on Earth and it is an Adventure trip for travelers on a limited time & Budget. The Friendship Highway is an important artery of commerce; it is also Tibet's most popular tourist route. Enjoy fabulous mountain scenery enroute, visit mystical Buddhist monasteries of Tashilungpo at Shigatse, the Kumbum Stupa at Gyantse, and drive past the beautiful Turquoise lake. This route gives you a glimpse of both the Tibetan and Nepali culture. We'll pass small Tibetan settlements, nomadic herdsman wandering across the wide arid plains and awe-inspiring mountain peaks. Equally as fascinating is the wealth of cultural interest and we will have plenty of opportunity to explore this side of Tibet, both in Lhasa and the other towns we pass through on our journey.

Friendship Highway (Kathmandu, Nepal to Lhasa, Tibet)

The Friendship Highway (also known as the Arniko Highway) is an important artery of commerce; it is also Tibet's most popular tourist route. It was built in the mid-1960s and to link the valleys to the south of the Tsangpo and it follows the ancient trade route from Lhasa to Kathmandu.
